State Historical Society

VOL. XLII

LEXINGTON, LAFAYETTE COUNTY, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1912

NO. 27

Candidate for Representative.

N. M. Houx announces in this issue of the Intelligencer for the nomination of Representative for Lafayette county to the General Assembly. Mr. Houx has no opposition for the nomination, and will have very little at the general election. He has served one term, and made one of the best records ever made by a representative from this county. Mr. Houx is fully alive to the needs of the state and has the intelligence to impress upon others the importance of business methods and sane ideas in formulating laws and regulations for the guidance of individuals and society. He is a man of the strictest integrity, well informed on topics of general interest and a fine student of the state's constitution and government. Mr. Houx will no doubt be returned to the general assembly by an increased majority.

Camping Party.

A party composed of the following left Tuesday morning for Crooked river where they will fish, fight chiggers and fleas until Friday: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kriehn, Misses Anna Stalling, Laura Stalling, May Heimer, Margaret Weis, Stella Bandon, Alice Spencer, Laura Taubman, Delia Crowder, Elizabeth Wallace, Izetta Gaffin, Miss Bearn; Messrs. Frank Weis, Geo. Weis, Ed Barron, Albert Walk, Joe Long, Harry Taubman, A. E. Taubman, Carl Winkler, Pete Feget, Arthur Bour.

Raided a "Hop Joint."

Saturday night officers Haberkorn and Pollard made a raid on a "hop joint" down in the Jungles and arrested Chas. Scott and Kate Baker, both colored. Along with these two the officers secured three pipes and a quantity of "pills." Before Justice Wilcoxon Monday morning the woman plead guilty to frequenting a "hop joint," and was sentenced to six months in jail. Scott will stand trial.
